Fulfill your environmental stewardship and save money with community solar

New York State has established a program to encourage the growth of renewable energy, and religious organizations are uniquely qualified! Save money and promote clean, local energy!

Ampion manages subscriptions to local solar farms, and helps connect residents, non-profits, and small businesses to the projects. It's easy to get started because there's no equipment to install or upfront investments. All you do is subscribe.

Here's how it works

Ampion finds you a local solar farm and assigns you a share of the power based on your historical electricity usage.

Each month, electricity is generated on your behalf and sent to your utility.

The utility tracks the electricity, and translates it into a monetary credit that reduces your electric bill.

After you receive the credit on your electric bill, you pay Ampion at a guaranteed 10% discount.

Engage your community and generate donations

Your members are eligible to participate as well! With your approval, Ampion will initiate a fundraising campaign that will reward your organization $50 for each member of your community who participates.
